

The no call list must not be weakened. It is important to preserve the strict enforcement of this list as it currently stands. No company should be given any permission to use names on the list under any circumstances.